FOREWORD

(Reprinted from the Greater Bombay, Bombay Suburban District Volume)

The Bombay Public Trusts Act, 1950 received assent on 14th August 1950. Soon after that the necessary procedure under the Act was undertaken and a mass of information was collected in the Charity Commissioner's Office. There are, however, reasons to believe that some trusts have not yet been declared to the Charity Commissioner and also some of the declarations have not given full particulars about the trusts. In order to enable public to check the declarations and help the Charity Commissioner in enforcing registration as well as full declaration of properties, this Directory is being published. The Directory will also be useful to the public for getting information about the various trusts in the region. This publication will also be useful to the public for many other purposes. It is a matter of gratification that the Charity Commissioner and the staff have been able not only to complete investigations with regard to most of the trusts within a short space of time but have also been able to make available for general information such a useful publication.

30th September 1954.

DINKARRAO N. DESAI,
Minister for Law and Education.

PREFACE

(Reprinted from the Greater Bombay, Bombay Suburban District Volume.)

THIS directory is intended for the use of those, individuals and institutions, who desire to take advantage of the benefits provided by public trusts and also to those who are interested in the honest and efficient working of such trusts. For the latter it may well be the starting point for a detailed study of an individual public trust or a type of public trusts. It may also help the movement towards association or amalgamation of allied trusts.

The directory does not contain a list only of important public trusts but of all public trusts registered under the Bombay Public Trusts Act, 1950. A separate volume has been prepared for each district and public trusts registered after the publication of these volumes will appear in supplements which will be issued from time to time.

A directory of this nature can only aim at giving basic information. Objects, principal assets, income and expenditure, institutions run by the trust—these are some of the topics on which information has been included in these volumes. Every effort has been made to give objects as correctly and completely as possible and the sub-heads under expenditure are designed to show expenditure on religious or charitable objects as well as expenditure on the rest of the items. Addresses of public trusts have been given to enable readers to correspond directly with public trusts for further information. As many public trusts do not have offices of their own and their addresses change with the change of trustees, registered numbers of public trusts have also been given to enable readers to correspond with the Public Trusts Registration Office concerned to get the latest addresses of public trusts or such other information as readers may have failed to obtain after approaching the public trusts.

A statement giving consolidated figures for each section as well as for the whole district has been appended at the end of the volume to show at a glance assests, income, expenditure, etc., of public trusts in the whole district. Indices have been printed on coloured paper to facilitate quick reference.

A word of caution must be added about the figures given in the directory. They are taken from the statements made by the trustees in their registration applications and it is possible that they are not free from errors. Further, they will naturally not reveal changes that have taken place subsequent to the filing of those registration applications.

The Directory is, perhaps, the first of its kind in this country and has been prepared without any model to draw upon. It will not be surprising, therefore, if it suffers from shortcomings. All suggestions for its improvement will be gratefully received.

My thanks are due to Shri A. B. Kanade of the Greater Bombay Regional Office, who not only displayed great devotion to his work but also entered into the spirit of it, making valuable suggestions in drafting instructions for the preparation of the directory and its printing.

BOMBAY :
28th August 1954.

D. R. PRADHAN,
Charity Commissioner.

NOTES FOR USING THE DIRECTORY

(1) The Directory has been divided into sections as follows :—

A—Hindus (including Jains, Buddhists and Sikhs).

B—Muslims.

C—Parsis.

D—Others (other than A, B, C, i. e. Christians, Jews etc.)

E—Cosmopolitan.

F—Societies registered under the Societies Registration Act, 1860.

As no public trusts are registered under sections C and D in this district those sections are blank.

(2) The names of the public trusts are arranged in alphabetical order in each section, omitting articles, prepositions, titles, etc., prefixed to them. Separate alphabetical order is given to Jain, Buddhist and Sikh public trusts.

(3) An index has been appended to each section arranging the trusts under suitable heads for ready reference.

(4) The assets mentioned in the fourth, fifth and sixth columns do not include cash on hand or balance in the bank or interest held in private companies or joint concerns. The column for land and buildings does not include the value of places of worship such as temples, mosques, churches, agyaries, synagogues, etc., as in law they do not possess any market value. Other investments mentioned in the sixth column include investments in gold and silver bullion as well as in ornaments, although the latter may not, strictly speaking, constitute investment, in some cases, for example, ornaments received as offerings to deities.

(5) The seventh column deals with institutions run by the public trusts.

(6) The Directory contains public trusts registered till the 31st December 1954.

(7) The address of the Public Trusts Registration Office for the public trusts mentioned in this volume is :

Public Trusts Registration Office,

Belgaum Region, Old Commissioner,

Southern Division's Office, Belgaum.
